MEMORANDUM

TO: The Board of Environmental Protection

FROM: John MacLaine, Bureau of Land & Water Quality, Portland

RE: Consent Agreement for Wayne Nelsen, et al

DATE: October 1, 2009

Statute and Rule Reference: The Protection and Improvement of Waters Act, 38 M.R.S.A. Section 413, states, in pertinent part, that no person shall directly or indirectly cause soil material to be discharged into waters of the State without a permit from the Department.

The Erosion and Sedimentation Control Law, 38 M.R.S.A. Section 420-C, states, in pertinent part, that a person who conducts, or causes to be conducted, an activity that involves filling, displacing or exposing soil or other earthen materials shall take measures to prevent unreasonable erosion of soil or sediment beyond the project site or into a protected natural resource.

The Stormwater Management Law, 38 M.R.S.A. 420-D, states that anyone who acts contrary to the terms and conditions of a permit is a violation of the law.

Location: Westbrook

Description: On July 13, 2004, the Department granted approval to Wayne Nelsen and Everett O'Brien in Department Order #L-21694-NJ-A-N to construct a stormwater management system to serve a 22-lot residential subdivision known as Cobb Farm Estates. Various lots within the development were transferred to several business entities, all of which are primarily controlled by Wayne Nelsen and all of which are referred to as Wayne Nelsen, et al. During inspections by Department staff beginning in the summer of 2006, it was noted on almost all occasions that erosion controls were inadequate on site, sediment control structures were not being maintained and erosion control plans were not being followed. Subsequent requests for corrective actions were not heeded resulting in a discharge of sediment to Mill Brook on January 11, 2008. Following a Stop Work Order issued by the City of Westbrook on January 14, 2008, actions were taken on site to correct the erosion and sedimentation control issues.

Environmental Issues: Streams are important habitats for a variety of insects, fish and other species. The water quality of streams plays an important role in the diversity and health of the surrounding ecosystem including but not limited to spawning areas for fish, and a food source for aquatic and terrestrial animals. Sedimentation of a stream can result in the suffocation and mortality of developing fish eggs and larvae and the loss of appropriate spawning habitat. The loss of interstitial spaces can be detrimental to aquatic insect habitat as well.

Department Recommendation: The Department recommends acceptance of this Consent Agreement stipulating that Wayne Nelsen, et al pay a monetary penalty of $ 8,317.00, which has been paid.

The penalty is based on the Department's penalty policy reflecting the speed and quality of requested corrective actions, the duration of the violation, and that the violation could have been avoided. Inspections of the project by Department staff since the signing of the Consent Agreement by Wayne Nelsen et al have revealed that it is currently in compliance with the Erosion and Sedimentation Control Law and Stormwater Management Law.

Management permit #L-21694-NJ-A-N had not been followed and silt fence that was installed was not maintained or keyed in correctly.

6. On September 28th, 2006, the Department issued a Letter of Warning to Wayne Nelsen regarding the violations described in Paragraph 5 of this Agreement requesting that corrective actions be taken to bring the site into compliance with its erosion and sedimentation control plan.
7. On October 26th, 2006, Department staff inspected the property described in Paragraph 1 of this Agreement and found that erosion control was still inadequate. Staff observed that silt fence was in disrepair and not keyed into the soil; exposed soil had not been adequately seeded or stabilized.
8. On October 30th, 2006, a Notice of Violation was issued to Wayne Nelsen and Everett O'Brien regarding the violations of Department Order #L-21694-NJ-A-N described in Paragraphs 5 and 7 of this Agreement in accordance with 38 M.R.S.A. § 347-A(1)(B).
9. On November 6th, 2006, Department staff was advised by Everett O'Brien that he had sold his portion of the property described in Paragraph 1 of this Agreement to Nelsen & Brown Development Group, LLC in January, 2006.
10. On April 12th, October 18th, and October 31st, 2007, Department staff inspected the property described in Paragraph 1 and found each time that erosion control was lacking in many areas and the areas where erosion control had been used were not maintained. On October 31, 2007, staff sent a letter containing a detailed list of all areas of concern to Wayne Nelsen and requested immediate corrective action be taken.
11. On January 11th, 2008, an inspection by Department staff revealed that none of the corrective actions requested by staff had been taken. Erosion control was still inadequate or non-existent in many places. Soil was moving from non-stabilized areas to drainage swales and continuing off site. Silt fences and check dams had not been maintained and silt fence was down in many areas. Check dams had been filled with sediment, and therefore were not working properly. A discharge of sediment was noted coming directly out of the detention pond ultimately flowing into Mill Brook. A plume of sediment was observed for about 30 feet downstream of where the drainage entered Mill Brook.
12. On January 14th, 2008, the Department issued a second Notice of Violation to Wayne Nelsen regarding the violations described in Paragraphs 10 and 11 of this Agreement in accordance with 38 M.R.S.A. § 347-A(1)(B).
